Oldtimerfarm processes your personal data because you use our services and/or because you provide them to us yourself. Below is an overview of the personal data we process:
– E-mail address;
– Address data;
– Phone number;
– Other personal data that you actively provide to us, for example by filling out our contact form on our website, in correspondence and by telephone;

Our website and / or service does not intend to collect data about website visitors who are younger than 18 years. Unless they have permission from parents or guardians. However, we cannot check if a visitor is older than 18. We encourage parents to be involved in the online activities of their children, in order to prevent data about children being collected without parental consent. If you are convinced that we have collected personal information about a minor without this consent, please contact us via info@oldtimerfarm.be and we will delete this information.

Oldtimerfarm processes customer data for the following purposes:
– To communicate with customers
– To safeguard payment transactions
– Sending you our newsletter and / or advertising brochure;
– Call or e-mail you if necessary to carry out our services;
– Inform you about changes to our services and products;
– To deliver goods and services to you
– To improve Oldtimerfarm's services

We do not share personal data with third parties, unless you give us permission or request it.

Sharing personal data with third parties: we do not sell your information to third parties and only provides it if this is necessary for the execution of our agreement with you or to comply with a legal obligation. With companies that process your data in our assignment, we conclude a processor agreement to ensure the same level of security and confidentiality of your data. Oldtimerfarm remains responsible for these processing operations.

Functions from various third-party providers of social media platforms (such as Facebook, Twitter, Google+) are integrated into the Oldtimerfarm website. Plug-ins enable users to share content on social networks.
If a plug-in is displayed when browsing Oldtimerfarm website (e.g. Facebook's "Like" button), a connection with the relevant third-party provider's servers is automatically established. This means that data on customers' and users' visit to the website can be transmitted to these third-party providers. If the customer or user is also registered with this third-party provider's network, the visit to the website may also be assigned to their network account (e.g. Facebook account).
Oldtimerfarm has no control over the method of this type of data transmission.
The purpose and scope of the data collection and the subsequent processing and use of the data by the relevant social media providers as well as the related rights and configuration options for privacy protection can be found in the privacy notices of the relevant third-party providers.

We keep your personal data in a secure environment until you sign off or let us know that we need to delete your data from our files. Oldtimerfarm does not store your personal data longer than is strictly necessary to realize the purposes for which your data is collected.

Oldtimerfarm uses only technical and functional cookies. In principle, we do not use analytical cookies that infringe your privacy. A cookie is a small text file that is stored on your computer, tablet or smartphone when you first visit this website. The cookies we use are necessary for the technical operation of the website and your ease of use. They ensure that the website works properly and remember these cookies, for example, your preferred settings. We can also optimize our website with this.
You can opt-out of cookies by setting your internet browser so that it does not store cookies anymore. In addition, you can also delete all information previously saved via the settings of your browser.

You have the right to view, correct or delete your personal data. In addition, you have the right to withdraw your consent to the data processing or to object to the processing of your personal data by Oldtimerfarm and you have the right to data portability.
This means that you can submit a request to send the personal data that we have from you in a computer file to you or to another organization that you appoint. You can send a request for access, correction, deletion, data transfer of your personal data or request for cancellation of your consent or objection to the processing of your personal data to: info@oldtimerfarm.be

To ensure that the request for access has been made by you, we ask you to send a copy of your ID with the request. Make your passport photo, MRZ (machine readable zone, the strip with numbers at the bottom of the passport), passport number and citizen service number (BSN) black in this copy. This is to protect your privacy. We respond as quickly as possible, but no later than within four weeks, at your request. Oldtimerfarm also wishes to point out that you have the opportunity to file a complaint with the national supervisory authority, the Dutch Data Protection Authority. This can be done via the following link:

Oldtimerfarm takes the protection of your data seriously and takes appropriate measures to prevent misuse, loss, unauthorized access, unwanted disclosure and unauthorized modification. If you have the impression that your data is not secure or that there are indications of abuse, please contact us at info@oldtimerfarm.be

Cookie Policy

At Oldtimerfarm we respect your concerns about privacy and value the relationship that we have with you.

Like many companies, we use technology on our website to collect information that helps us enhance your experience and our products and services. The cookies that we use at Oldtimerfarm allow our website to work and help us to understand what information and advertising is most useful to visitors.

Please take a moment to familiarise yourself with our cookie practices and let us know if you have any questions by sending us an e-mail or submitting a request through the "Contact"   form on our website.

We have tried to keep this Notice as simple as possible, but if you're not familiar with terms, such as cookies, IP addresses, and browsers, then read about these key terms first.

Who is collecting it?

Any personal data provided to or collected by Oldtimerfarm via cookies and other tracking technologies is controlled only by Oldtimerfarm. By using our websites, you are consenting to our use of cookies in accordance with this Cookie Notice and our Privacy Notice.

Any personal data provided to or collected by Oldtimerfarm via cookies and other tracking technologies is controlled by Oldtimerfarm bvba.

This Cookie Notice applies to any websites, apps, branded pages on third-party platforms (such as Facebook or YouTube), and applications accessed or used through such websites or third-party platforms (hereinafter, "our websites") which are operated by or on behalf of Oldtimerfarm. References to "Oldtimerfarm" in this Notice means the companies within the Oldtimerfarm Group including subsidiaries, affiliates, joint ventures and franchises that you are interacting with or have a business relationship with (hereinafter, "Oldtimerfarm Group").
By using our websites, you are consenting to our use of cookies in accordance with this Cookie Notice and our Privacy Notice. If you do not agree to our use of cookies in this way, you should set your browser settings accordingly, disable the cookies that we use or not use our websites at all. If you disable the cookies we use, this may impact your user experience while on the websites.

The section below summarises the different types of cookies we use on our websites, together with their respective purpose and provides you with the ability to manage these cookies.

Oldtimerfarm will only collect, use or disclose your personal data where it is fair and lawful to do so.

For a more detailed understanding of how we use personal data collected by Oldtimerfarm cookies, please refer to our Privacy Notice.

What does cookie mean?

Cookies, pixel tags and similar technologies (collectively 'cookies') are files containing small amounts of information which are downloaded to any internet enabled device – such as your computer, smartphone or tablet – when you visit a website.

Cookies, pixel tags and similar technologies (collectively 'cookies') are files containing small amounts of information which are downloaded to any internet enabled device – such as your computer, smartphone or tablet – when you visit a website. Cookies are then sent back to the originating website on each subsequent visit, or to another website that recognises that cookie. Cookies do lots of different and useful jobs, such as remembering your preferences, generally improving your online experience, and helping us to offer you the best product and services.

There are many types of cookies. They all work in the same way but have minor differences. For a detailed list of cookies used on our websites, please refer to the below relevant section.

What purpose do we use cookies for?

We use cookies to make Oldtimerfarm websites easier to use, to deliver a personalised experience on our websites, and to better tailor our products, services and websites to your interests and needs. Cookies are used to help speed up your future activities and your experience on Oldtimerfarm websites.

We use cookies to make Oldtimerfarm websites easier to use, to deliver a personalised experience on our websites, and to better tailor our products, services and websites to your interests and needs. Cookies are used to help speed up your future activities and your experience on Oldtimerfarm websites.

The cookies you consent to, are also used to collect your personal data which we then profile into audiences so that we can deliver targeted advertising tailored to your interests and limit the number of times you see an advertisement. For more detailed information about the profiling activities Oldtimerfarm undertakes with your personal data for advertising, please see our Privacy Notice.

We also insert cookies in emails and newsletters to improve our content and advertising.

Lastly, we use cookies to compile anonymous, aggregated statistics that allow us to understand how people use our websites and to help us improve their structure and content and also help us measure the effectiveness of advertising campaigns on Oldtimerfarm and non-Oldtimerfarm websites.

More detailed information about the types of cookies we use and for what purposes, can be found in the below relevant section.

How can I control or delete cookies?

There are many ways to manage your cookies:
* You can refuse your consent;
* You can disable Oldtimerfarm or third-party cookies by use of your browser settings (see how here); or
* You can use our cookie management tool to disable Oldtimerfarm or third-party cookies (see how here).
